was a case of the returned prod gal killing the fatted calf for himself up at the Polo Grounds yester day. Not that there was so much dipose tissue on the lean and hungry Braves, whose ribs could be counted under their mighty meager percentage. But the calf was the fattest that uld be obtained for the occasion The Giants made the killing a double one, taking the first game for Jess Barnes by 6 to and the second one for Arthur Nehf by the more greedy exactly with the program which they had pictured for the double header. Above all, the New Yorks were winners all the way in both games. They furnished potent pitching, powerful work with the bet, sizzling fielding, splendid coordination of effort—and they made no tense situation to drive the warm fans still warmer and send pulses beating at too rapid a gait. It was a jolly party at every angle for everybody but the negligible Braves.

Oddly enough, the four hours of baseball developed only one home run, and, happily erough, it went to a Giants. No, it was not Kaliv, nor was it Meusel. The four bagger, which went into the lower tier of the right field stand in the third inning of the second game and meant three runs, was contributed by the sorrel thatched Billy Cunningham of San Francisco, Cal., lately installed as a regular in centerfield and an untiring, dashing zealot in celebration of his delayed arrival.

Cunningham seemed to go crazy with the heat in the second game. In the first contest he hit a double, was robbed of a hit by an unusual happening, whereby Kelly was forced at second after Bill had driven a liner into left, and was robbed lof another safety by a great catch by Powell. But in the second section of the big day for Harry Stevens, Bill saw to it that his wallops went where no larceny could be committed by either fate or the harassed Braves.

another lethal supporter of Nehf in the second exhibition.

Heinle Groh had a peculiar experience in his batting efforts. In the first game he got three singles in four times upand in the second shindig he collected no fewer than five passes in six trips to the plate. He might have made it an even half dozen but for his yielding temptation to take a sock at a high one. That retired him via a foul to Holke. It was an afternoon of striking contrasts in pitching which were far from flattering to the Boston flingers. There were many of these. Our old friend Rube Marcuard started the first game but had to leave under fire before even a single Geant had been retired. Singles

Then came Bullet Frank Miller—and after him a younge'er from the Sally by the name of Lansing, front name Eugene. In the second game it was McQuillan the magnanimous, whose freedom with passes was an unseasonable demonstration of the Christmastide spirit. He left in a storm in the fourth and turned the messy thing over to John Watson, who taggered through as best he could. And that wasn't very good.

Double Header; Rookie Wins Cincinnati, May 26.—The Reds and Cubs broke even in the first game easily, Cheeves outpitching Rixey by a wide margin. In the second game Keck, a recruit from the Western Association, making his first appearance in the big league, held the visitors to four hits and beat them, 2 to 1.

Barnes and Nehf pitched magnificent ball. Jess gave nine Pits, but not until the eighth, in which three blows delivered their two runs, did the Bostons really get to the fast ball expert. Previous to the eighth he yielded only six scattered hits and always had the visitors just where he wanted them,

Hubbell, Injured Pitcher, Is Improving Rapidly

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—A marked improvement in the condition of Wilbur Hubbell, Philadelphia National League pitcher, whose skull was fractured by a batted ball yesterday, was noted to-night by Dr. John A. Boger, the club's physician. His condition was so good that President Baker of the Phillies telegraphed Mrs. Hubbell that she need not come East. Dr. Boger said there was no doubt of Hubbell's recovery unless unexpected complications arise. "He will be out of the hospital in a few weeks," said the doctor, "but it will be some time before he is able to play ball.

"After his recovery Mr. Baker plans to send him away for a time tully to recuperate, and it probably will be midsummer when he gets back in the game."

Seventh Victory for Doak, Another Homer for Hornsby

Cardinals Beat Pirates Easily,

Sr. Louis, May 26.—Doak of the Cardinals won his seventh victory of the season to-day from Pittsburgh by 6 to 2, breaking a losing streak of the locals. Hornsby in the fifth inning knocked one of Cooper's slow ones over the left field fence, making his eleventh circuit drive. He needs one more to the Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Americas. Foster's Triple in Tenth

Brings Red Sox Victory

Boston, May 26.—Foster's triple to right center off Bryan Harris's first pitched ball in the jenth inning, followed by Ruel's single over short on the next pitch, gave the Red Sox a 7 to 6 victory over the Athletics to-day. The hitting of Pratt and Menosky was timely. Walker tied the score in the seventh by knocking a homer over the clock in left center. The score:

DODGERS ENJOY A PROFITABLE SERIES

Win Fourth Game in Two Days Senators Triumph by Score of at Expense of the Phillies.

Special Dispatch to THE New York Hemalsh PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Brooklyn's diligent Dodgers have won four games in Chicago. They took the first game

Walter Ruether, southpaw delivery, was given credit for the victory in the opener, but he had to be rescued in the seventh by Arthur Decatur, a rookle, after a line drive from Parkinson had hurt his hand. Ruether has won eight of nine games and been in two he did not finish.

Dazzy Vance, the right hander from New Orleans, beat the Phillies handliy in Brooklyn and repeated in the second game to-day. He held them to eight scattered hits. They never made a threatening motion after the first inning, in which they filled the bases on two passes and a single, with one out, and Parkinson then grounded into a double Ruether hit a home run off Smith in the first game and Fletcher hit one off Buether. In the second Myers hit one for Brooklyn with nobody on, and Deberry hit one with Olson on first. No homer was made by the Phillies in the second game. The Dodgers have poled out eight circuit hits in the two double headers, Myers and Deberry each having two. The Phillies made three.

Brooklyn got a flying start for two runs in the first inning of the second game, and they would have been enough to win. Myers's home run came in the fourth and sailed over the score beard in center. Olson opened the seventh with a single to left and loafed in on Deberry's home run over the right field fence.

RUTH A SPECTATOR AS YANKEES LOSE

3 to 1, Zachary Pitching Fine Ball.

WASHINGTON, May 26 .- George Her

He saw his pals make only six hits, alsingles, off the southpaw slants of Jezebel Tecumseh Zachary, and escape as shut out only because of a two base muff by Left Fielder Goslin, which paved the way for the champions' only run.

Zachary was none too steady at times, but was handsomely supported at critical moments. Three double plays were made in his defense, all of them costly to the New York cause. One developed in the eighth inning after singles by Fewster and Miller had put the tying runs on base with only one out, and another, the prize of the collection, was started by Roger Peckinpaugh after Pipp had ripped a single to right in the ninth.

Battling Bob Shawkey labored on the hill for the Yankees and was beaten by his own wildness. Five bases on balls were charged against his erratic delivery, and all but one of them figured in the scoring. In the fifth the former Gob forced in a run by passing Peckinspaugh with all the bases filled as a result of two deadheads and a single.

Telegram Regarding Ruth.

Telegram Regarding Ruth.

Just before the Yankees debouched upon the field for their preliminary practice Manager Miller Huggins received a telegram from President Ban Johnson of the American League instructing him to keep the Babe out of the Yankee batting order pending investigation of his attempted assault upon a spectator at the Polo Grounds on Thursday.

In accordance with his traditional policy, Griffith has been making a great feature of Ruth's first series at the capital city this year in his advance notices to the newspapers, and has even induced the Southern Rallway to run special excursions from as far South as Greensboro and Asheville for the Saturday and Sunday games.

Though restrained from playing the game, the Babe participated in the preliminary practice. As he made his first appearance here in uniform this year he received a mixed greeting, some of the fans cheering him and others assailing his ears with lears. He re-he received a mixed greeting, some of the fans cheering him and others as-sailing his ears with jeers. He re-mained on the fleid throughout the batting practice and sent a couple of lusty belts over the distant center field fence. Every long drive was saluted with a salvo of applause from a crowd of more than 10,000.

Senators Score First.

Senators Score First.

The Senators were the first to score. With one out in the first inhing Sam Rice singled through the box. Judge drew a pass and Brower filled the bases by beating out a slow roller down the third base line. Goslin singled to center, scoring Rice and Judge and sending Brower to third. A squeeze play was attempted, but Gharrity bunted right into Shawkey's hands and Brower was nipped at the plate. Peck then ended the inning by grounding to Scott for a force out at second.

There was no further scoring until the fourth, in which the Yankees bagged a tainted run. With two out in this inning, Goslin muffed Baker's liner in short left field and the Maryland farmer reached second base on the error, scoring on Meusel's single to left. Walter Pipp also connected solidly but lined into Rice's hands for the third out.

With two out in the second half, La-but lined into Rice's hands for the third out.

With two out in the second half, La-Motte singled to center and went to third on Zachary's blow to right, but both runners were left when Miller corraled Harris's hoist for the third out. Again in the fifth Shawkey faltered after two were out, and a pass to Brower, Goslin's single to center and a base on talls to Gharrity filled the bases. He forced in a run by passing Peck but averted further trouble in this frame by fanning LaMotte for the third out. Peckinpaugh's wild throw past first put Fewster on base at the start of the sixth. Ward batted into a force out at sixth. Ward batted into a force out at second and then advanced to the midwar on Miller's sacrifice. Baker drew a pass and brought Bob Meusel to bat but the best the languid Californian had to offer in the pinch was an easy pop fly which LaMotte collected back of

The American people are a queer lot. As long as they yell "You're the greatest in the world!" they are perfectly satisfied. But they want to do all the yelling. be followed until instructor and pupils become better adapted to the new order of things. Tubbing was the principal pastime this afternoon and not until next week will there be a serious attempt at hard practice.

While George took charge of the varsity, Jim handled the freshmen, a job handled up to to-day by the present varsity coach, who was made head coach overnight.

Despite a change in stroke and the new American rigging installed in the Yale shells it is conceded here that it is going to be a most difficult task to whip a winning crew into shape by the time of the Harvard regatta.

Commenting on the big shift of coaches the Yale News to-day says:
"The appointment of George Corderry as head coach of the university crews will come as a surprise to many friends.

Crimson as Reorganized Hopes for Good Showing.

Cornell are ready to-night for their annual regatta to be rowed on Cayuga

Lake to-morrow afternoon as the climax of Cornell's spring day program. The Harvard crews, which arrived at noon, put out in shells late to-day for an easy paddle over the scene of to-morrow's regatta, a two mile course on the east side of the lake.

The Crimson varsity has been reorganized since its early season defeat by the Navy and hopes to make a creditable showing against the fine eight developed by Coach John Hoyle of Cornell. It is the belief in Harvard rowing circles that the crew Coach Hoyle will enter to-morrow is better suited to a two mile race than any other eight that has been developed at Cambridge this season.

The Cornell crews went out late today and practiced starts. Unless there should be a mishap in the Corneil university the Ithacans are expected to win handsomely, but the freshman race may be a real battle.

Cutbill Suspended for Padding Expense Bill

I ARTFORD. Conn., May 26.—
Harold C. (Hal) Cutbill, Boston's "flying parson," is suspended from the Amateur Athletic Union, it was announced by the Connecticut registration committee today. The suspension is the result of an investigation into charges that Cutbill "padded" his bill for expenses during a track meet here on February 25. The action of the registration committee must be reported to the national executive committee for approval.
